

JUDGEMENT AFFIRMED; CASE WILL GO TO SUPREME COURT

The superior court at Pittsburgh has affirmed judgment of the Washington county courts in the case of Mr. McDermott, the local butter and egg merchant. There were two charges against him, for three counts.

Mr. McDermott was found guilty at the November term of court for violating the pure food law. The specific charge was selling oleo that contained coloring matter. This case was ordered on argument. On January 31, 1908, motions for a new trial were overruled, and Mr. McDermott directed to appear for sentence on February 10, he then being fined $200 and the costs of prosecution thrown on him. In the February term he was again arraigned on three counts for selling oleo in unmarked wrappers. Being found guilty, motions were filed for a new trial and arrest of judgment. Judge McIlwaine overruled these and directed Mr. McDermott to appear for sentence on March 2nd. Sentence was suspended on count 1, a fine of $500 and jail sentence of six months on count 2, and stet was entered on count 3. The case was appealed to the higher tribunal by McDermott's attorneys.

The local merchant thinks that the laws of Pennsylvania in regard to the selling of oleomargarine conflict with those of the United States, his defense being based mainly on that line. He will fight the case to the end and will take an appeal to the supreme court. If he does the decision of the lower court, but if not, Mr. McDermott will have to pay the fines and serve out the sentence imposed by the lower court some time ago.

Mr. McDermott's attorneys which are numbered among some of the best in Western Pennsylvania are preparing a strong statement to present to the higher court. It is claimed that McDermott was convicted on negative evidence, which is that the chemist who secured the oleo from the local merchant did not analyze it here but took the sample away for examination.

WIDOWS OF DARR MINE VICTIMS SUE FOR DAMAGE

Eighteen suits for damages aggregating $350,000 were filed in the United States Circuit Court yesterday against the Pittsburgh Coal company by relatives of persons killed in the Darr mine disaster at Jacobs Creek, December 19, 1907.

It is alleged in the papers that the explosion was caused by negligence on the part of the defendant company by failing to supply a sufficient current of air to dilute and carry off the noxious gases and in failing to provide two air shafts.

The following women ask $50,000 damages for the loss of their husbands:

Magyler, Lena Mihaly, Celia Meyer, Terrassa Ghiry, Celia Terrassa Mihaly, Carloline Lim, Terrassa Schuster, Belle Waid, Kishier, Emma Hough, Celia Katie Tricks, Celia Tendl, and Kila Tendl.

Each of these women whose husband was killed in the disaster, ask $25,000 damages, which is the amount asked, and James P. Darr, whose 14-year-old son, James Darr, Jr., lost his life, asks $25,000, the smallest amount of damages asked.

The majority of the women were left with families ranging from two to seven children.

SUPERIOR COURT AFFIRMS ACTS OF LOWER BODY

In five opinions that have been handed down by the superior court judgment of the Washington county court has been affirmed in all. The cases taken to the appellate court and affirmed were the school district of the borough of Claysville against John E. Wirtzell and the same plaintiff against the estate of Thomas Anderson commonwealth vs. M. M. McDermott, three counts, and Swanick against Monongahela. All these cases were important ones and involved some interesting questions.

The first two cases grew out of the refusal of certain land owners in a portion of Donegal township to pay a special school tax to meet a bonded indebtedness in the school district of Claysville, this portion of Donegal township, by special act, being a part of the Claysville school district. The decision of the lower court was in favor of the plaintiff, and the appellate court sustains this opinion.

The lower courts is sustained also in the suit of Thomas Swanick against the city for $10,000 damages for injuries received by falling from a wagon on a street at Monongahela, it being alleged the street was in bad repair, causing the wagon to go down into a hole, thus throwing him off. The jury found for the plaintiff the sum of $425. A new trial was refused the defendant, upon its filing a motion, and from this decision an appeal was taken.

CHARLEROI AND OSBORNE BEAT MILLIONAIRES

Manager Of Cherubs Allows But Four Safeties Off His Delivery.

Manager Osborne, with his left side swing was more than the Onions cared for yesterday afternoon, inasmuch as they didn't take well to his servings, connecting safety only four times and failing to get a man past the third brick on the way to success. Arch seemed to have about all he needed and seven times caused the husky Onion swatters to chop at the breeze. Rudolph, Gilligan, Price and Frankberry were the lucky ones, in the hitting line, but none came in succession and were utterly useless.

Neither team created any excitement in the run getting line until Charleroi took their turn in the sixth. The first man to face Shettler singled and the next swatter followed suit. When a wild heave put in its appearance one run was chalked up. While this one run looked as big as the mountain, with Osborne working perfect the Cherubs were a little selfish and took two more in the very next round on a single, a life and one that went for two sacks. Elks in Big Parade.

Dallas, Tex., July 16.—This is the greatest day Elks in this section of the country have experienced. Attracted by the big parade, which is a feature of the annual convention, from 60,000 to 70,000 people thronged the city. The parade was pronounced the equal of any ever had. Last night the "Lodge of sorrow" was held with Chief Justice Melvin, of California, as principal speaker.

FIRE DESTROYS TWO STABLES AT MONONGAHELA

Horse In One Belonging To Monessen Man Is Burned.

A fire occurred at Monongahela last evening which destroyed two stables, both valuable buildings and a horse which was in one of them. The total loss is estimated at $2000. The buildings which were on Fourth street near Union belonged to Dr. J. H. Strathers and a Mr. Phillips, of Monongahela, while the horse belonged to Mr. Ginsberg of Monessen.

The fire was discovered by some nearby residents at about six o'clock in the evening and the alarm spread in that neighborhood, but a general alarm was not sent in. When it was seen the flames had gained considerable headway, and although by bucket brigades it was tried to extinguish the fire, little could be done. Several tried to get the horse from the stall where it was fastened, but at each trial, the men were driven back by flames and smoke.

When someone was thoughtful enough to turn in the alarm, the fire had gained such headway that by the time the fire department had arrived upon the scene, the heat that could be done was to keep the adjoining buildings from catching fire. On several occasions the residence of a Mr. Anton, adjoining, was on fire, but little damage was done. The horse which was burned was in the stable of Dr. Strathers.

M'VICKER GOES TO MARIANNA

Mr. John McVicker, who has been superintendent of the Catsburg and Black Diamond mines for the River Coal company for several years, has resigned that position, to take effect August 1st, to go with the Pittsburgh-Buffalo company at Marianna. It may be that arrangements can be made whereby Mr. McVicker will be able to assume his new duties at an earlier date, but the time will not be deferred beyond the date mentioned. Mr. McVicker will have charge of the Rachel shaft, one of the largest coal shafts in the world, which has been completed to the workings, but over which the tippie has not yet been erected. For the present his family will remain in Monongahela, although he expects eventually to move to the scene of new labors.

TAX COLLECTOR OF M'HAHON IN TROUBLE

A court airing of what promises to be a more than ordinarily interesting sensation in McMahan municipal circles was provided when at a meeting of the boro council, Adam M. Wyant, a prominent Greensburg attorney, was employed to bring civil suit against Tax Collector Z. S. Towers and Alex. and Tom McMahan, his sureties. The shortage or approximately $2,700 from the assessed 1906 and 1907 boro tax and the 1907 school tax is alleged.

Several large property holders have not paid their taxes it is said and it is further alleged the amounts have not been returned to Greensburg as the law requires. An examination of the auditor's report and the receipts of the boro treasurer caused an investigation resulting in the suit being brought.

WARM TIME AT HEARINGS OVER SUNDAY CLOSING

When ten of the local foreign merchants appeared before Justice of the Peace Wilson yesterday afternoon charged with selling goods on the Sabbath, there were some lively times and it was only by work on the part of two of the officers that a fight was prevented. In the evening when one of those fined appeared to settle, some hot words were passed between him and another party which resulted in a suit being brought later.

Of the ten men arraigned there were nine of them fined each $4 and costs. These were mostly Italian, French and Belgium dealers of the town who were arrested by Detective Province for Sabbath breaking. This fact was what occasioned the trouble. They had for a defender a prominent French business man of the town and in a war of words was participated by the prosecuting side and him.

It was claimed by the defendants that partiality was shown in arresting the foreigners without notification to stop Sunday selling, and the American dealers were not touched. The plaintiffs claim they are going to stop illegal selling on the seventh day.

INTERESTING SOCIAL NEWS OF THE DAY

A party was held at the home of Miss Hilda Callaghan, of Washington avenue last evening by a number of young people, in honor of her house guest, Miss Celia Burns of Steubenville, Ohio. The time was spent in the usual manner with games and music. Lunch was provided the guests.

The Washington Avenue Presbyterian Sunday school chose for the scene of their picnic a yesterday beautiful spot out of town where the roar and screech of machinery could not dull the opportunity for a good time.—Lynn's Grove, near Belle Vernon. A large number went from Charleroi to that place and spent the day in the most approved picnic fashion. Races and games proved interesting diversions. Special cars were arranged for to carry the crowds to and from the grove.

The Christian Sunday school yesterday picniced at Eldra park and all who were fortunate enough to decide to go, and there were a great many of such, were shown a good time. In all about 400 persons attended, 300 going on the special cars and 100 later. The day was spent in usual picnic style, games and races being features of the day. The management of the park bore all expenses of the outing and provided each child with two tickets for the merry-go-round and roller coaster.

CHARGED WITH STEALING BOAT FROM WHARF

Monongahela, July 17.—Bernardo Gillo, the Twelfth street ferryman, was arrested yesterday on a charge of stealing a gasoline launch belonging to A. H. Hasfer, of Pittsburgh.

The launch was stolen some time during the night from the glass house wharf. It is alleged that after stealing the launch the machinery was removed and the hull taken across the river near the Mongah mine and sunk.

The launch was 24 feet long and valued at $400. Gillo was lodged in the local lockup and will be given a hearing before Alderman Elwood this morning.

The Ladies Aid society of the Dunlevy United Brethren church will hold a supper in the basement of the church tomorrow evening.

"BONESET" JUICE IS THAT WHICH SOME MEN LOVE

On a charge of violating the liquor laws in selling a beverage known as "Boneset Tonic," W. P. Cage, who conducts a restaurant in Washington, was held for court yesterday afternoon by Justice of the Peace E. N. Dunlap. Cage furnished bond for $500 for his appearance before the next grand jury. The information was made by Constable E. E. Cummins on information received.

This brand of alleged special "boozie" which Cage has been selling is made in Wheeling and is sold as a tonic. The defendant claimed the stuff was guaranteed to him as being free from alcohol and not in violation of the liquor laws. The tonic was analyzed and was found to contain 2.29 per cent alcohol in volume and 1.66 per cent in weight.

Several days ago, Clinton McGrew, son of B. C. McGrew, in company with two other boys went to the Cage restaurant and purchased three bottles of the tonic. Two of the bottles were taken directly to the office of Justice Dunlap and later analyzed. The bottles bore no labels, but Cage stated that he had kept the bottles on ice or in cold water and that the labels had come off in this way.

During the course of the hearing Mr. Cage took a whack at the local breweries and said that the Crescent Brew, which was being sold over town by a number of restaurants contained more alcohol than the tonic he was selling.

This is the third man to be tried within the past few days on the charge of selling tonic in violation of the liquor laws and in each one the defendants have been held for court. It is understood that there are several more to follow.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

Sun sets 7:25, rises 4:40; moon rises
10:25 p. m.; moon's age 20 days.

Ludicrous.

It is scarcely possible that William Taft will get the support and vote of the great labor leader, Eugene V.
Debs. It will be remembered that when Taft as Federal Judge was issuing the first blanket injunctions against labor organizers and strikers that this country ever witnessed, he threw Debs into jail for alleged contempt and held him there for a period of six months. Taft's record in this regard will not make a strong bid for the organized labor vote of the country.—Clarksburg News.

It is possible but very improbable that so many errors of statement were ever crowded into a similar amount of space. Imprimis. It was Judge Grosscup, of Chicago, not Judge Taft
of Cincinnati, who sent Debs to jail.
And, being a candidate for the same office, Debs will hardly throw what influence he has to any other candidate.

Can the vote of organized labor turn with any confidence to the Democrats for relief. There are many States in which the Democratic party is supreme and where it has had for years
an opportunity to carry out its policies.
In the States of Alabama, Mississippi,
Georgia, Louisiana, South Carolina,
North Carolina and Florida there is none to dispute the power of the Democratic party. Governors, Legislatures, Courts are all in the hands of that party. And what is the status of organized labor in particular and labor in general in those States?

Is there in any of them or in all of them a mechanics lien law, a semi-monthly pay law, a factory inspection law, a child labor law, an eight-hour law, an employer's liability law, or any of the things for which organized labor contends? There is not. On the contrary the man who earns his bread in the sweat of his face is "a hill billy" or a "one gallus boy," who is an object of contempt for the John Sharp Williams, and gets neither fair play nor decent treatment from his employer nor relief from Legislatures or Courts. Actually, the status of the laboring men in those States is but one remove above the Mexicanpeon.
Those things cannot be railed away.
In the cities the printers have a union. Outside of those there are no labor unions, an organizer is looked upon as an enemy of society, hunted like a wild beast, not by lawful process, but by a mob composed of the "leading and prominent" who have never become reconciled to the idea that a worker is not a chattel and has rights that they are bound to respect.

From these States will come a majority of the Democratic Congressmen who must be depended upon to carry out any legislation in favor of labor. Is there one of these Congressmen who can "point with pride" to any legislation in his State that does simple justice to the toiler? Not one. Can he boast of the age limit at which children are permitted to work in the mines and mills of Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina? Will he come into a mining town in the Northern States and boast of how the free miners of Tennessee and Alabama have to compete with convicts? Well, hardly.
Will one of them or all of them use
the chain gangs and peonage, systems of Florida and the Carolinas to show Southern affection for the laboring man?

Look at the other side of the shield.
In the steadfast Republican States of Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania,
Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa,
Illinois, etc., the statute books fairly swarm with beneficent laws designed to protect the lives, limbs, health and rights of the workers be they male or female. At every session of the Legislatures of those States the Republican party enlarges the scope of the laws to protect the workers. Their wants are as patiently listened to as would be given to the proudest in the land.
From the days of "freemen, free soil and Fremont", the Republican party has ever been the champion of the poor and the oppressed. There is no bar sinister upon its claim that it is the friend of the worker. Everywhere it controls, labor is free to organize to strike for its rights to use any lawful means to do so. It is only in Republican States that organized labor receives any consideration or has any considerable membership.

It is from this old, tried and steadfast friend that the workingmen are asked to desert to the party of peon-
age, chain gangs and convict labor, and for what? Simply because of a grievance, which a friend promises to remedy and by a friend that always kept its promises.

One Step, Etc.

Some one has said that "There is but one step from the sublime to the ridiculous." The organ of the Drug Store Dynasty took that step yesterday when it compared the rebuffs it has received for its wholesale defamation
of the people of Washington county to Roosevelt when criticised for his reform utterances. Roosevelt and the Dynasty! A black African lion to a den of skunks! A war eagle to a tit-mouse! Could human vanity reach greater limits!

Suits Nobody.

A perusal of the criticisms of the Denver platform shows that it is too radical for the conservatives and too conservative for the radicals and suits nobody.

A new and very sly way to fleece the people has been conducted quite successfully recently in a number of towns in Schuylkill and Northumberland counties, and a young man named Leavy as arrested in Pottsville and committed to prison to await trial.
The Shamokin Daily News describes the method by saying: "He represented himself to be an oculist sent out by the department of health at Harrisburg for the purpose of examining the eyes of the public. He made house to house canvasses, showing when occasion demanded it, a diploma issued by some Baltimore institution.
In some cases Leavy stated that he was connected with the Pottsville hospital. He promised to call every three weeks for one year. The state, he claimed, provided the treatment
free of cost, an appropriation of $200, 000 having been made for that purpose. It would be necessary, however, for the patients to pay for the lenses, he explained. These lenses were to be of a 'medicated' nature and would be furnished at a nominal cost." This nominal cost was from $4.25 upwards and quite a number paid for lenses to find out later that they had been imposed on. Beware of all such characters.

As a rule in rural sections of the state school districts are made to conform with the townships, although there are frequent exceptions in cases where several townships meet in which
for the sake of convenience to school
an independent district is formed.
But Schuylkill county appears to have some townships in which the rule is to have a separate district for a school.

The Pottsville Evening Chronicle
says: "West Brunswick Township,
for instance, is divided as follows:
West district, 16 pupils; North district, 46 pupils; South district, 16
pupils; Schuylkill district, 17 pupils;
Stephens district, 28 pupils Centre district, 2 pupils; Tunnel district, 38 pupils; Church district, 42 pupils. In this entire township there are but 210 pupils, and yet there are eight separate school districts. East Brunswick township is divided into five school districts, and there are but 268 pupils." The result is that troubles are arising under the new compulsory school attendance law, because of the failure of the township assessors to make proper returns for each district separately. The schools will have the advantage of a closer supervision by directors, but it seems hardly necessary to have a board of six directors
for even the largest school mentioned, and it looks as though it were merely a scheme to give official positions to more men with a little salary for the secretary and treasurer in each board.

ful and humane owner of horses adopts means to protect them from heat and
the tortures inflicted by the pesky fly.
The sufferings of a noble beast can be considerably mitigated by a little attention that ought to be cheerfully bestowed. Yet a little observation will be convincing that many drivers remain in blissful ignorance of the act that dumb brutes are exempt from one of the torments suffered by man.
The thoughtless driver need not be told that flynets add to the pleasure of a horse's existence. Yet but few horses have been provided with them.
We trust that this editorial will be read by every horse owner in the city, and that the omission will be speedily corrected. Animals protected from a annoying pest will improve in temper and will accomplish a great amount of labor, and this consideration, if none other, ought to induce owners to furnish them ample protection.

Light on heating junk

Hundreds of owners in this locality are trying to warm their homes by old-fashioned, flimsy heating apparatus about ready for the junk yard. This is bad business and false economy. They should be informed about

AMERICAN & IDEAL RADIATORS & BOILERS

which will save the difference in cost by the savings in coal, labor, and freedom from repairs. Ashes and coal dust are kept out of the living-rooms—saving wear on carpets and furnishings.

Ideal Boilers and American Radiators will outlast the building. In the meantime, they warm the house ALL over, and protect the family health. Don't try to heat your house with extravagant, coal-eating, non-heating junk. Ask for book (free).

HERE AND THERE

The judicial investigation of Somerset county's almshouse condition threatens to be abortive because of the mysterious absence of the star witness. This is unfortunate. An effort should nevertheless be made to make the inquiry searching. If not in the courts then outside.

The general store of John H. Laird, of Wyanetown, was entered last night by burglars. They were evidently frightened away before securing much goods. Three revolvers, a penknife and a dollar in pennies were missing this morning.

At a meeting of the Connellsville township School Board last night the resignation of Miss Hattie Henry, of Rock Ridge school, was accepted and Miss Anna B. Lieb was named in her place. Miss Henry will continue her studies at a normal school.

John McCoy and James Paxton, of Charleroi, have been in Pittsburgh during the past two or three days attending the court proceedings in connection with the appointment of a receiver for the Dairy Farmers company.

The Greene county courts yesterday held that the tender of clearing house checks was legal tender. The checks had been offered as payment on an oil lease and the court issued a mandatory injunction against the owners of the land from interfering with well drilling.

The fatal powder explosion at the home of John Fenossff, Buffalo Park, Monday morning, June 29, today cost a second life. Little Jennie Fenossff, the two-year-old girl who received serious injuries at that time, died Wednesday forenoon, after having suffered great pain during the more than a fortnight since the disaster occurred.

Quo warranto proceedings were begun Monday by District Attorney Harry L. Goebing, through Attorney T. Chalmers Duff, to have Councilman A. W. Marvin, William Der and Casper P. Mayer, of Bridgeville, explain why they were interested in certain contracts for street paving in the borough.

Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock the first car was run over the extension of the Washington and Canonsburg street car line to East Canonsburg. The extension has been in course of construction for some time and its completion has been looked forward to with great interest by the residents of East Canonsburg.

Returning home with clothing for Joseph, her four-year-old son, Mrs. Joseph Zachovickanz of 925 Jerome street, McKeesport, fainted yesterday when she saw his mangled and lifeless body lying on a table in the kitchen.

Hays borough has another sensation. Ms. John Williams, a married woman, is alleged to have eloped with Joe Mossaint, a well known young man of the town.

Peter Butsek, the missing foreign banker, who owns a chain of banks in Connellsville, Uniontown and Brownsville, has been located in Hungary through information received by John Bilpuk of Dawson, a depositor in the defunct institution there. Butsek set foot on Hungarian soil on June 28.

Housed comfortably between the walls of the old Centennial Hall at Eldersville, now used as a normal school building, where they had been all winter and spring, a swarm of bees was taken by John McCleary. The bees were hived and Mr. McCleary secured 40 pounds of fine honey.

Three men held up. William Kelly of McKeesport at a lonely spot near the Westmoreland county line early last evening while he was driving home in a buggy. Kelly jumped out of the buggy, knocked one of the desperadoes down and ran some distance to the street car tracks, where he boarded a car for McKeesport.

The outing of the Connellsville Merchant's Association at Kenneywood Park August 6, next, promises to be a Yough river improvement convention of sufficient magnitude to make the War Department sit up and take notice.

A stray dog, believed to have been mad, was shot and killed on the Robert L. Munce farm in North Strabans township Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Francis M. Hill aged 26 years, died at his home at Ellsworth, of typhoid fever. The body was shipped to Scottsdale and will be interred at that place Thursday afternoon.

The Westmoreland county fair will hold night sessions. The wonder is that this innovation was not sooner adopted in this age of electricity. The fair ought to have its Pike.

The first span of the new Donora bridge has been about completed, and the citizens of that borough can now obtain an idea as to what the bridge will look like.

In three special trains over the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad several thousand men, women and children left New Haven Wednesday morning to attend the annual picnic at Rock Point park near New Castle.

Albert Lovejoy, a young farmer near Canonsburg, was placed in jail yesterday to await the August term of court when he must answer the charge of larceny. He is accused of stealing a gold watch from Mrs. Devore, of near Eighty-Four.

Charles J. Smith, East Millisboro, Fayette county, and Miss Hazel Smith, of Centerville, were united in marriage yesterday in the clerk of courts office, the Rev. Joseph G. Patton officiating.

Threatened by another annual visit of the band of gypsies which invades Cycle park at about this time of the year, merchants and other citizens of Uniontown are about to take steps which they believe will prevent their invasion. The members of the band make a living by telling fortunes and selling trinkets, and, while they seem to be prosperous many are inclined to fear them.

A strong appeal for the poor has come from Woods Run, a small mining village on the Monongahela river, where the industrial condition has not improved to any extent of late. So numerous have the calls for help been that it has been found necessary by the charity workers there to call for aid from the outside.

The suffragists of Kentucky are following the example of their sisters in New York by holding a series of open-air meetings. The first was held recently at Covington, and the speaker of the evening was Mrs. K. Trimble Woolsey.

PLANS FOR OLD HOME WEEK AT CARNEGIE

Plans for the big "Old Home Week" celebration which is to be celebrated by the town of Carnegie during the week of August 23-29 are progressing satisfactorily, and from the present outlook, it will be the biggest thing of its kind ever held in that vicinity in years.

The executive committee which is composed of the leading business and professional men of the town is sparing no expense to provide amusements for the thousands of visitors who are expected to be in attendance and from the subscriptions which have been received, it is believed that there will be no lack of finances to carry out all the original plan.

Special features are being worked to a conclusion are the Firemen's day, at which time races and competitions will be held for cash prizes amounting to $250; an enormous industrial and fraternal society parade which is expected to be several miles in length, baseball games every day between crack amateur teams, including three County League games, bicycle road races, tennis tournament, a gun club shoot, school reunions, public gatherings of all kinds, special services in all the churches, a Mardi Gras festival and other interesting events.

Application has been made for reduced rates on all transportation lines and it is expected that enormous crowds will be in attendance during the entire week.

See the "Adventures of a Sheriff" at the Grand tonight.

WILL CONNECT TOWN WITH OUTSIDE WORLD

Greensboro, July 16.—Two hundred men were put to work this week on the trolley road which is to be built from Masontown, Fayette Co. to New Geneva across the river from this place. The length of this piece of road is four miles and when completed will give the people of this place trolley connection with Uniontown, with the Monongahela river as the only barrier.

The people of Greensboro have been very anxious to have a bridge constructed across the river at this point but have failed to get the proper officials to think that a bridge is needed.

All merchandise and other freight which is shipped to and from this town must be ferried across the river and when the stream is very high or is frozen over the town is cut off from the outside world.

A Bibulous Lord Mayor.

Any one with a love of queer names should study the names of past lord mayors of London. Besides one or two that are merely uncommon and did not belong to men of any distinction, such as Sir Richard Spina, mayor in 1482, there are some that deserve notice also for the sake of those who bore them. There was Sir John Brugges in 1529, whose ancestor fought at Agincourt, when, curiously enough, the name had the more modern form of Brydges. There was Alderman Micajah Perry in 1730, who laid the first stone of the Mansion House, and Sir Benjamin Hamet, who was fined £1,000 in 1707 for refusing to act as mayor—possibly a cheap way of getting out of it.

The most appropriately named lord mayor seems, however, to have been the cheerful Sir Robert Viner, who entertained Charles II. and drank the king's health so often as to become unduly merry. The king tactfully sought to retire, but Viner plucked him by the sleeve and vowed he should "stay and take the other bottle!" Charles II., never at a loss, complied, murmuring, "He that is drunk is as great as a king."—St. James' Gazette.

Awed by the Beau.

When Beau Brummel, the celebrated dandy, was, in consequence of his fallen fortunes, residing at Calais, he had occasion to visit Paris. Through the kindness of the consul at the former place he was enabled to accompany a king's messenger to the capital and thus travel free of expense. When the messenger returned, the consul was curious to know how he and his aristocratic companion had fraternized upon the road. "What kind of a traveling companion did you find Mr. Brummel?" asked he. "Oh, a very pleasant one, indeed, sir; very pleasant," replied the messenger. "Ah! And what did he say?" "Say, sir? Nothing! He slept the whole way." "Slept the whole way! Do you call that being pleasant? Perhaps he snored!" The messenger acknowledged that Brummel did so, but immediately, as if fearful of casting an improper reflection upon so great a personage, he added, with great gravity, "Yet I can assure you, sir, Mr. Brummel snored very much like a gentleman!"—Argonaut.

A Plausible Reason.

"I'll sell you $10,000 worth of this mining stock for 50 cents," urges the promoter. "It's the chance of a lifetime. Within a month it will be selling at a dollar a share."

"Then why don't you hold on to it?" asks the canny man.

"I would, but I need a hair cut and a shave. How will I look if I wait a month?"—New York Life.

The supreme court at Pittsburgh has affirmed the judgment of the Washington county court in the case of Mr. McDermott, the local butter and egg merchant. There were two charges against him, for three counts.

Mr. McDermott was found guilty at the November term of court for violating the pure food law. The specific charge was selling oleo that contained coloring matter. This case was ordered on argument. On January 10, 1908, motions for a new trial were overruled, and Mr. McDermott directed to appear for sentence on February 10, he then being fined $200 and the costs of prosecution thrown on him. In the February term he was again arraigned on three counts for selling oleo in unmarked wrappers. Being found guilty, motions were filed for a new trial and arrest of judgment. Judge McIlwaine overruled these and directed Mr. McDermott to appear for sentence on March 2nd. Sentence was suspended on count 1, a fine of $500 and jail sentence of six months on count 2, and stay was entered on count 3. The case was appealed to the higher tribunal by McDermott's attorneys.

The local merchant thinks that the laws of Pennsylvania in regard to the selling of oleomargarine conflict with those of the United States, his defense being based mainly on that line. He will fight the case to the end and will take an appeal to the superior court. If he does the supreme court may reverse the decision of the lower court, but if not, McDermott will have to pay the fines and serve out the sentence imposed by the lower court some time ago.

Mr. McDermott's attorneys which are numbered among some of the best in Western Pennsylvania are preparing a strong statement to present to the higher court. It is claimed that McDermott was convicted on negative evidence, which is that the chemist who secured the oleo from the local merchant did not analyze it here but took the sample away for examination.

WIDOWS OF DARR MINE VICTIMS SUE FOR DAMAGE

Eighteen suits for damages aggregating $850,000 were filed in the United States Circuit Court yesterday against the Pittsburgh Coal company by relatives of persons killed in the Darr mine disaster at Jacobs Creek, December 19, 1907.

It is alleged in the papers that the explosion was caused by negligence on the part of the defendant company by failing to supply a sufficient current of air to dilute and carry off the noxious gases and in failing to provide two airshafts.

The following women ask $50,000 damages for the loss of their husbands:

Maria Maglier, Lena Mihaly, Celia Meyner, Terrassa Ghiry, Celia Terrassa Mihaly, Carlina Lim-Terrassa Schuster, Belle Waid, Edisher, Emma Hough, Celia Katie Tricka, Celia Tendl, and Kila Tendl.

Elizabeth, whose husband was killed in the disaster, asks $100,000 damages, which is the amount asked, and James P. whose 14-year-old son, James, was killed, asks $25,000, the smallest amount of damages asked.

The majority of the women were left with families ranging from two to seven children.

Merchants Meet Tonight.

A special meeting of the Charleroi Merchants' Association will be held at the Association Rooms, Kirk and Clark Building this evening, at 8:30 o'clock. The matter of the picnic will be taken up.

1000 Canaries will be given away next week at the animal show.

See the "Adventures of a Sheriff" at the Grand tonight.

Engagement Announced.

At a luncheon at the home of Mrs. George Irons, of Belle Vernon yesterday afternoon, the engagement of Miss Agnes Lemaster Gregg, of Monongahela, and Chauncey S. Duvall, of Monessen, was announced.

Canary birds free at the wild animal show next Tuesday.

In five opinions that have been handed down by the superior court the judgment of the Washington county court has been affirmed in all. The cases taken to the appellate court and affirmed were the school district of the borough of Claysville against John E. Werrell and the same plaintiff against the estate of Thomas Anderson commonwealth vs. M. M. McDermott, three counts, and Swanick against Monongahela. All these cases were important ones and involved some interesting questions.

The first two cases grew out of the refusal of certain land owners in a portion of Donegal township to pay a special school tax to meet a bonded indebtedness in the school district of Claysville, this portion of Donegal township, by special act, being a part of the Claysville school district. The decision of the lower court was in favor of the plaintiff, and the appellate court sustains this opinion.

The lower courts is sustained also in the suit of Thomas Swanick against the city for $10,000 damages for injuries received by falling from a wagon on a street at Monongahela, it being alleged the street was in bad repair, causing the wagon to go down into a hole, thus throwing him off. The jury found for the plaintiff the sum of $425. A new trial was refused the defendant, upon its filing a motion, and from this decision an appeal was taken.

Manager Of Cherubs Allows But Four Safeties Off His Delivery.

Manager Osborne, with his left side swing was more than the Onions cared for yesterday afternoon, inasmuch as they didn't take well to his services, connecting safely only four times and failing to get a man past the third brick on the way to success. Arch seemed to have about all he needed and seven times caused the husky Onions swatters to chop at the breeze. Rudolph, Gilligan, Price and Frankenberg were the lucky ones, in the hitting line, but none came in succession and were utterly useless.

Neither team created any excitement in the run getting line until Charleroi took their turn in the sixth. The first man to face Shettler singled and the next swatter followed suit. When a wild heave put in its appearance one run was chalked up. While this one run looked as big as the mountain, with Osborne working perfect the Cherubs were a little selfish and took two more in the very next round on a single, a life and one that went for two sacks. FIRE DESTROYS TWO STABLES AT MONONGAHELA

Horse In One Belonging To Monessen Man Is Burned.

A fire occurred at Monongahela last evening which destroyed two stables, both valuable buildings and a horse which was in one of them. The total loss is estimated at $2000. The buildings which were on Fourth street near Union belonged to Dr. J. H. Strathers and a Mr. Phillips, of Monongahela, while the horse belonged to Mr. Ginsberg of Monessen.

The fire was discovered by some nearby residents at about six o'clock in the evening and the alarm spread in that neighborhood, but a general alarm was not sent in. When it was seen the flames had gained considerable headway, and although by bucket brigades it was tried to extinguish the fire, little could be done. Several tried to get the horse from the stall where it was fastened, but at each trial, the men were driven back by flames and smoke.

When someone was thoughtful enough to turn in the alarm, the fire had gained such headway that by the time the fire department had arrived upon the scene, the best that could be done was to keep the adjoining buildings from catching fire. On several occasions the residence of a Mr. Anton, adjoining, was on fire, but little damage was done. The horse which was burned was in the stable of Dr. Strathers.

M'VICKER GOES TO MARIANNA

Mr. John McVicker, who has been superintendent of the Catsburg and Black Diamond mines for the River Coal company for several years, has resigned that position, to take effect August 1st, to go with the Pittsburgh-Buffalo company at Marianna. It may be that arrangements can be made whereby Mr. McVicker will be able to assume his new duties at an earlier date, but the time will not be deferred beyond the date mentioned. Mr. McVicker will have charge of the Rachel shaft, one of the largest coal shafts in the world, which has been completed to the workings, but over which the tippie has not yet been erected. For the present his family will remain in Monongahela, although he expects eventually to move to the scene of new labors.

TAX COLLECTOR OF M'MAHON IN TROUBLE

A court airing of what promises to be a more than ordinarily interesting sensation in McMahan municipal circles was provided when at a meeting of the boro council, Adam M. Wyant, a prominent Greensburg attorney, was employed to bring civil suit against Tax Collector Z. S. Towers and Alex. and Tom McMahan, his sureties. The shortage or approximately $2,700 from the assessed 1906 and 1907 boro tax and the 1907 school tax is alleged. Several large property holders have not paid their taxes it is said and it is further alleged the amounts have not been returned to Greensburg as the law requires. An examination of the auditor's report and the receipts of the boro treasurer caused an investigation resulting in the suit being brought.

Charleroi, Pa., July 14, 1908.

Sealed bids will be received by Boro Clerk for building addition to new boro building. Plans and specifications can be seen at Clerk's office. All bids to be in on or before July 24, 8 p. m. Council retaining the right to reject any or all bids.

WARM TIME AT HEARINGS OVER SUNDAY CLOSING

When ten of the local foreign merchants appeared before Justice of the Peace Wilson yesterday afternoon charged with selling goods on the Sabbath, there were some lively times and it was only by work on the part of two of the officers that a fight was prevented. In the evening when one of those fined appeared to settle, some hot words were passed between him and another party which resulted in a suit being brought later.

and Belgium dealers of the town who were arrested by Detective Province for Sabbath breaking. This fact was what occasioned the trouble. They had for a defender a prominent French business man of the town and in a war of words was participated by the prosecuting side and him.

It was claimed by the defendants that partiality was shown in arresting the foreigners without notification to stop Sunday selling, and the American dealers were not touched. The plaintiffs claim they are going to stop illegal selling on the seventh day.

INTERESTING SOCIAL NEWS OF THE DAY

A party was held at the home of Miss Hilda Callaghan, of Washington avenue last evening by a number of young people, in honor of her house guest, Miss Celia Burns of Stauntonville, Ohio. The time was spent in the usual manner with games and music. Lunch was provided for the guests.

The Washington Avenue Presbyterian Sunday school chose for the scene of their picnic a yesterday beautiful spot out of town where the roar and screech of machinery could not dull the opportunity for a good time.—Lynn's Grove, near Belle Vernon. A large number went from Charleroi to that place and spent the day in the most approved picnic fashion. Races and games proved interesting diversions. Special cars were arranged for to carry the crowds to and from the grove.

The Christian Sunday school yesterday picniced at Eldora park and all who were fortunate enough to decide to go, and there were a great many of such, were shown a good time. In all about 400 persons attended, 300 going on the special cars and 100 later. The day was spent in usual picnic style, games and races being features of the day. The management of the park bore all expenses of the outing and provided each child with two tickets for the merry-go-round and roller coaster.

CHARGED WITH STEALING BOAT FROM WHARF

Monongahela, July 17.—Bernardo Gillo, the Twelfth street ferryman, was arrested yesterday on a charge of stealing a gasoline launch belonging to A. H. Hasfer, of Pittsburgh.

The launch was stolen some time during the night from the glass house wharf. It is alleged that after stealing the launch the machinery was removed and the hull taken across the river near the Mongah mine and sunk. The launch was 24 feet long and valued at $400. Gillo was lodged in the local lockup and will be given a hearing before Alderman Elwood this morning.

The Ladies Aid society of the Dunlevy United Brethren church will hold a supper in the basement of the church tomorrow evening.

On a charge of violating the liquor laws in selling a beverage known as "Boneset Tonic," W. P. Cage, who conducts a restaurant in Washington, was held for court yesterday afternoon by Justice of the Peace E. N. Dunlap. Cage furnished bond for $500 for his appearance before the next grand jury. The information was made by Constable E. E. Cummins on information received.

This brand of alleged special "boozie" which Cage has been selling is made in Wheeling and is sold as a tonic. The defendant claimed the stuff was guaranteed to him as being free from alcohol and not in violation of the liquor laws. The tonic was analyzed and was found to contain 2.29 per cent alcohol in volume and 1.66 per cent in weight.

Several days ago, Clinton McGrew, son of B. C. McGrew, in company with two other boys went to the Cage restaurant and purchased three bottles of the tonic. Two of the bottles were taken directly to the office of Justice Dunlap and later analyzed. The bottles bore no labels, but Cage stated that he had kept the bottles on ice or in cold water and that the labels had come off in this way.

During the course of the hearing Mr. Cage took a whack at the local breweries and said that the Crescent Brew, which was being sold over town by a number of restaurants contained more alcohol than the tonic he was selling.

This is the third man to be tried within the past few days on the charge of selling tonic in violation of the liquor laws and in each one the defendants have been held for court. It is understood that there are several more to follow.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.
Sun sets 7:25, rises 4:40; moon rises
10:25 p. m.; moon's age 20 days.

Ludicrous.

It is scarcely possible that William Taft will get the support and vote of the great labor leader, Eugene V.
Debs. It will be remembered that when Taft as Federal Judge was issuing the first blanket injunctions
against labor organizers and strikers
that this country ever witnessed, he threw Debs into jail for alleged contempt and held him there for a period of six months. Taft's record in this regard will not make a strong bid for
the organized labor vote of the country.—Clarksburg News.

It is possible but very improbable
that so many errors of statement were
ever crowded into a similar amount of space. Imprints. It was Judge Grosscup, of Chicago, not Judge Taft
of Cincinnati, who sent Debs to jail.
And, being a candidate for the same vice, Debs will hardly throw what
date.

Can the vote of organized labor turn
with any confidence to the Democrats
for relief. There are many States
in which the Democratic party is supreme and where it has had for years
an opportunity to carry out its policies.
In the States of Alabama, Mississippi,
Georgia, Louisiana, South Carolina,
North Carolina and Florida there is
none to dispute the power of the Democratic party; Governors, Legislatures, Courts are all in the hands of that party. And what is the status of organized labor in particular and labor
in general in those States?

Is there in any of them or in all of them a mechanics lien law, a semi-
monthly pay law, a factory inspection
law, a child labor law, an eight-hour
law, an employer's liability law, or any of the things for which organized
labor contends? There is not. On the contrary the man who earns his
bread in the sweat of his face is "a hill bill," or a "one galus boy," who is an object of contempt for the John Sharp Williams, and gets neither
fair play nor decent treatment from his employer nor relief from Legislatures
or Courts. Actually, the status of the laboring men in those States is but
one remove above the Mexican Peon.
Those things cannot be railed away.

In the cities the printers have a union. Outside of those there are no labor unions, an organizer is looked like a wild beast, and by law he is treated as such, but by a mob composed of the "leading and prominent" who have never become reconciled to the idea

that a worker is not a chattel and has no right to organize and demand to explain from these States will come a majority of the Democratic Congressmen who must be depended upon to carry out any legislation in favor of labor. Is there one of these Congressmen who
can "point with pride" to any legislation in his State that does simple justice to the toiler? Not one. Can
he boast of the age limit at which
children are permitted to work in the mines and mills of Alabama, Georgia
and South Carolina? Will he come into a mining town in the Northern States and boast of how the free miners
of Tennessee and Alabama have to compete with convicts? Well, hardly.
Will one of them or all of them use
the chain gangs and peonage systems
of Florida and the Carolinas to show Southern affection for the laboring man?

Look at the other side of the shield.
In the steadfast Republican States of Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania,
Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa,
Illinois, etc., the statute books fairly
swarm with beneficent laws designed
to protect the lives, limbs, health and
rights of the workers be they male or female. At every session of the Legislatures of those States the Republican party enlarges the scope of the laws to protect the workers. Their wants are
as patiently listened to as would be given to the proudest in the land.

From the days of "freemen, free
soil and Fremont," the Republican party has ever been the champion of the poor and the oppressed. There is no bar sinister upon its claim that it is the friend of the worker. Everywhere
it controls, labor is free to organize to strike for its rights to to use any lawful means to do so. It is only in Republican States that organized labor receives any consideration or has any considerable membership.

It is from this old, tried and steadfast friend that the workingmen are asked to desert to the party of peon-
age, chain gangs and convict labor,
and for what? Simply because of a grievance, which a friend promises to remedy and by a friend that always
kept its promises.

One Step, Etc.

Some one has said that "There is but one step from the sublime to the ridiculous." The organ of the Drug Store Dynasty took that step yesterday
when it compared the rebuffs it has received for its wholesale defamation
of the people of Washington county
to Roosevelt when criticised for his reform utterances. Roosevelt and the Dynasty! A black African lion to a den of skunks! A war eagle to a tim-mouse! Could human vanity reach greater limits!

Suits Nobody.

A perusal of the criticisms of the Denver platform shows that it is too
radical for the conservatives and too
conservative for the radicals and suits
nobody.

A new and very sly way to fleece
the people has been conducted quite successfully recently in a number of
towns in Schuylkill and Northumberland counties, and a young man named Leavy as arrested in Pottsville and
committed to prison to await trial.
The Shamokin Daily News describes
the method by saying: "He represented himself to be an oculist sent out by the department of health at Harrisburg for the purpose of examining the eyes of the public. He made house to house canvasses, showing
when occasion demanded it, a diploma
issued by some Baltimore institution.
In some cases Leavy stated that he was connected with the Pottsville hospital. He promised to call every three weeks for one year. The state, he claimed, provided the treatment
free of cost, an appropriation of $200,- 000 having been made for that purpose. It would be necessary, however, for the patients to pay for the lenses, he explained. These lenses
were to be of a "medicated" nature
and would be furnished at a nominal
cost." This nominal cost was from $4.25 upwards and quite a number of the people were so taken in that they had been imposed on. Beware
of all such characters.

As a rule in rural sections of the
form with the townships, although
there are frequent exceptions in cases where several townships meet in which
for the sake of convenience to school
an independent district is formed.
But Schuylkill county appears to have some townships in which the rule is
to have a separate district for a school.

The Pottsville Evening Chronicle
says: "West Brunswick Township,
for instance, is divided as follows:
West district, 16 pupils; North district, 46 pupils; South district, 16
pupils; Schuylkill district, 17 pupils;
Stephens district, 28 pupils; Centre
district, 2 pupils; Tunnel district, 18 pupils; Church district, 42 pupils. In this entire township there are but 210
pupils, and yet there are eight separate school districts. East Brunswick
township is divided into five school districts, and there are but 263 pupils." The result is that troubles are arising under the new compulsory
school attendance law, because of the failure of the township assessors to make proper returns for each district separately. The schools will have the advantage of a closer supervision by
directors, but it seems hardly necessary to have a board of six directors
for even the largest school mentioned,
and it looks as though it were merely a scheme to give official positions to more men with a little salary for the secretary and treasurer in each board.

On a timely subject the Greenberg Star takes a rather interesting, but nevertheless worthy view of the animal world. It is a sad fact in the life of many a horse, dog, cat and human owner of horses adopted means to protect them from heat and
the tortures inflicted by the pesky fly.
The sufferings of a noble beast can
be considerably mitigated by a little
attention that ought to be cheerfully
bestowed. Yet a little observation
will be convincing that many drivers
remain in blissful ignorance of the act that dumb brutes are exempt from one of the torments suffered by man.
The thoughtless driver need not be
told that flynets add to the pleasure of
a horse's existence. Yet but few horses have been provided with them.
We trust that this editorial will be
read by every horse owner in the city,
and that the omission will be speedily corrected. Animals protected from an annoying pest will improve in temper
and will accomplish a great amount of
labor, and this consideration, if none
other, ought to induce owners to furnish them ample protection.

Making More Than a Living

Nearly every man who steadily makes more than a living. During these times the men who have saved something appreciate what it means to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a week counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tidy interest the sum soon grows to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living you are making now, and place the difference in this bank.

HERE AND THERE

The judicial investigation of Somerset county's almshouse condition threatens to be abortive because of the mysterious absence of the star witness. This is unfortunate. An effort should nevertheless be made to make the inquiry searching. If not in the courts then outside.

The general store of John H. Laird, of Wylandville, was entered last night by burglars. They were evidently frightened away before securing much goods. Three revolvers, a penknife and a dollar in pennies were missing this morning.

At a meeting of the Connellsville township School Board last night the resignation of Miss Hattie Henry, of Rock Ridge school, was accepted and Miss Anna B. Lieb was named in her place. Miss Henry will continue her studies at a normal school.

John McCoy and James Paxton, of Chartiers, have been in Pittsburgh during the past two or three days attending the court proceedings in connection with the appointment of a receiver for the Dairy Farmers company.

The Greene county courts yesterday held that the tender of clearing house checks was legal tender. The checks had been offered as payment on an oil lease and the court issued a mandatory injunction against the owners of the land from interfering with well drilling.

The fatal powder explosion at the home of John Fenossif, Buffalo Park, Monday morning, June 29, today cost a second life. Little Jennie Fenossif, the two-year-old girl who received serious injuries at that time, died Wednesday forenoon, after having suffered great pain during the more than a fortnight since the disaster occurred.

Quo warranto proceedings were begun Monday by District Attorney Harry L. Coehring, through Attorney J. Chambers Dull, to have Councilman A. W. Marvin, William Der and Casper P. Mayer, of Bridgeville, explain why they were interested in certain contracts for street paving in the borough.

Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock the first car was run over the extension of the Washington and Canonsburg street car line to East Canonsburg. The extension has been in course of construction for some time and its completion has been looked forward to with great interest by the residents of East Canonsburg.

Returning home with clothing for Joseph, her four-year-old son, Mrs. Joseph Zachovickanz of 925 Jerome street, McKeesport, fainted yesterday when she saw his mangled and lifeless body lying on a table in the kitchen.

Hays borough has another sensation. Mrs. John Williams, a married woman, is alleged to have eloped with Joe Mossaint, a well known young man of the town.

Peter Butsek, the missing foreign banker, who owns a chain of banks in Connellsville, Uniontown and Brownsville, has been located in Hungary through information received by John Bilpok of Dawson, a depositor in the defunct institution there. Butsek set foot on Hungarian soil on June 28.

Housed comfortably between the walls of the old Centennial Hall at Eldersville, now used as a normal school building, where they had been all winter and spring, a swarm of bees was taken by John McCleary. The bees were bived and Mr. McCleary secured 40 pounds of fine honey.

Three men held up William Kelly of McKeesport at a lonely spot near the Westmoreland county line early last evening while he was driving home in a buggy. Kelly jumped out of the buggy, knocked one of the desperadoes down and ran some distance to the street car tracks, where he boarded a car for McKeesport.

The outing of the Connellsville Merchant's Association at Kennywood Park August 6, next, promises to be a tough river improvement convention of sufficient magnitude to make the War Department sit up and take notice.

phoid fever. The body was shipped to Scottsdale and will be interred at that place Thursday afternoon.

The Westmoreland county fair will hold night sessions. The wonder is that this innovation was not sooner adopted in this age of electricity. The fair ought to have its Pike.

The first span of the new Donora bridge has been about completed, and the citizens of that borough can now obtain an idea as to what the bridge will look like.

In three special trains over the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad several thousand men, women and children left New Haven Wednesday morning to attend the annual picnic at Rock Point park near New Castle.

Albert Lovejoy, a young farmer near Canonsburg, was placed in jail yesterday to await the August term of court when he must answer the charge of larceny. He is accused of stealing a gold watch from Mrs. Devore, of near Eighty-Four.

Charles J. Smith, East Millsboro, Fayette county, and Miss Hazel Smith, of Centerville, were united in marriage yesterday in the clerk of courts office, the Rev. Joseph G. Patton officiating.

Threatened by another annual visit of the band of gypsies which invades Cycle park at about this time of the year, merchants and other citizens of Uniontown are about to take steps which they believe will prevent their invasion. The members of the band make a living by telling fortunes and selling trinkets, and while they seem to be prosperous many are inclined to fear them.

A strong appeal for the poor has come from Woods Run, a small mining village on the Monongahela river, where the industrial condition has not improved to any extent of late. So numerous have the calls for help been that it has been found necessary by the charity workers there to call for aid from the outside.

The suffragists of Kentucky are following the example of their sisters in New York by holding a series of open-air meetings. The first was held recently at Covington and the speaker of the evening was Mrs. J. K. Taylor.

Plans for the big "Old Home Week" celebration which is to be celebrated by the town of Carnegie during the week of August 23-29 are progressing satisfactorily, and from the present outlook, it will be the biggest thing of its kind ever held in that vicinity in years.

The executive committee which is composed of the leading business and professional men of the town is sparing no expense to provide amusements for the thousands of visitors who are expected to be in attendance and from the subscriptions which have been received, it is believed that there will be no lack of finances to carry out all the original plan.

Special features are being worked to a conclusion are the Firemen's day, at which time races and competitions will be held for cash prizes amounting to $250; an enormous industrial and fraternal society parade which is expected to be several miles in length; baseball games every day between crack amateur teams, including the County League games, bicycle races, tennis tournament, a gun club shoot, school reunions, public gatherings of all kinds, special services in all the churches, a Mardi Gras festival and other interesting features.

Application has been made for reduced rates on all transportation lines and it is expected that enormous crowds will be in attendance during the entire week.

The "Adventures of a Sheriff" is the grand finale.

WILL CONNECT TOWN WITH OUTSIDE WORLD

Greensboro, July 16.—Two hundred men were put to work this week on the trolley road which is to be built from Masontown, Fayette Co. to New Geneva across the river from this place. The length of this piece of road is four miles and when completed will give the people of this place trolley connection with Uniontown, with the Monongahela river as the only barrier.

The people of Greensboro have been very anxious to have a bridge constructed across the river at this point but have failed to get the proper officials to think that a bridge is needed.

All merchandise and other freight which is shipped to and from this town must be ferried across the river and when the stream is very high or is frozen over the town is cut off from the outside world.

A Biblicus Lord Mayor.
Any one with a love of queer names should study the names of past lord mayors of London. Besides one or two that are merely uncommon and did not belong to men of any distinction, such as Sir Richard Spaa, mayor in 1482, there are some that deserve notice also for the sake of those who bore them. There was Sir John Brugges in 1520, whose ancestor fought at Agincourt, when, curiously enough, the name had the more modern form of Brugges. There was Alderman Michael Perry in 1739, who laid the first stone of the Mansion House, and Sir Benjamin Hamet, who was fined £1,000 in 1707 for refusing to act as mayor—positively a cheap way of getting out of it.

The most appropriately named lord mayor seems, however, to have been the cheerful Sir Robert Viner, who entertained Charles II. and drank the king's health so often as to become unduly merry. The king tactfully sought to retire, but Viner plucked him by the sleeve and vowed he should "stay and take the other bottle!" Charles II., never at a loss, complied, murmuring, "He that is drunk is as great as a king."—St. James' Gazette.

Awed by the Beau.

When Beau Brummel, the celebrated dandy, was, in consequence of his fallen fortunes, residing at Calais, he had occasion to visit Paris. Through the kindness of the consul at the former place he was enabled to accompany a king's messenger to the capital and thus travel free of expense. When the messenger returned, the consul was curious to know how he and his aristocratic companion had fraternized upon the road. "What kind of a traveling companion did you find Mr. Brummel?" asked he. "Oh, a very pleasant one, indeed, sir; very pleasant," replied the messenger. "Ah! And what did he say?" "Say, sir? Nothing! He slept the whole way." "Slept the whole way! Do you call that being pleasant? Perhaps he snored!" The messenger acknowledged that Brummel did so, but immediately, as if fearful of casting an improper reflection upon so great a personage, he added, with great gravity, "Yet I can assure you, sir, Mr. Brummel snored very much like a gentleman!"—Argonaut.

A Plausible Reason.

"I'll sell you $10,000 worth of this thing," said a man to a woman. "It's the chance of a lifetime. Within a month it will be selling at a dollar a share."
"Then why don't you hold on to it?" asks the woman.
"I would, but I need a hair cut and a shave. How will I look if I wait a month?"—New York Life.
